FINDINGS:

On December 17, 2008, Nurse Henry submitted an Incident Report to Colonel Morgan regarding a Use of Force incident that had occurred on the previous day regarding Inmate Jerome Williams. In her report, she alleged that the force that had been used on Inmate Williams by Security staff (she did not give any names in the report) had been unjustified and excessive. (Exhibit A1)

Records revealed that the incident described by Nurse Henry was a documented Use of Force incident (UOF #2008-510-0399) that had occurred on December 16, 2008 in 'G' Dorm, involving Inmate Williams, Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Cox. According to the Use of Force Report, at approximately 10:20pm, Sergeant

SUMMARY OF ALLEGATIONS:

Nurse Henry reported that a Use of Force incident involving Inmate Jerome Williams that occurred in her presence (UOF #2008-510-0399) was unjustified and excessive.

SUMMARY OF DISPOSITION/JUSTIFICATION FOR DOWNGRADE/EXONERATION:

As a result of this investigation, It is determined that Sergeant William Langenbrunner, Officer David Cox and Officer Shaun Oppe have violated F.S.S. 944.35(3)(a) (Battery Upon an Inmate) by virtue of using unjustified and excessive physical force upon Inmate Jerome Williams.

Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Cox have also violated F.S.S. 944.35(4)(b) (Falsification of Use of Force Report) by virtue of submitting untruthful and inaccurate reports regarding the incident.

In addition, Sergeant Langenbrunner, Officer Cox and Officer Oppe have also violated F.A.C. 33-602.210(4) (Use of Force) by virtue of using unjustified and excessive physical force upon Inmate Williams.

Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Cox have also violated F.A.C. 33-208.002(19) (Falsification of Records) by submitting untruthful and inaccurate reports of the incident.

Case Number: 08-54466

Langenbrunner and Officer Cox escorted Inmate Williams to the medical exam room to be assessed by Nurse Henry after Inmate Williams had declared a psychological emergency. After the assessment was over, Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Cox began to escort Inmate Williams out of the room, at which time Inmate Williams broke free from Officer Cox's grasp and stated "I'm feeling homicidal and suicidal and I'm going to take you with me fuck boy!". Inmate Williams then began to charge towards Sergeant Langenbrunner. Sergeant Langenbrunner then ordered Inmate Williams to cease his actions but he did not comply. Sergeant Langenbrunner then grabbed Inmate Williams around the upper torso and Officer Cox grabbed him around the waist and they forced him to the ground. They then held Inmate Williams down on the ground until assistance arrived. No further force was reported. The report indicates that Sergeant Rhodes, Officer Oppe and Officer Pignatara responded to the scene but did not utilize any force. No other staff members were reported to have been involved. (Exhibit A2)

Inmate Williams was interviewed and stated that on the night of the incident, while in his cell, he began having mental issues and placed a rope around his neck and the air vent and began making gestures that he was going to hang himself in order to get attention from Security staff. He indicated that previous attempts to declare a psychological emergency were ignored by Security staff. The housing officer, whom he later positively identified as Officer Cox, then came to his cell door. He told Officer Cox that he was declaring a psychological emergency. Officer Cox then told him that he would call the nurse. A few minutes later, the "Sarge", whom he later positively identified as Sergeant Langenbrunner, then came up to the cell door and was very angry and began calling Inmate Williams names, such as "asshole" and "fuckboy". Inmate Williams then called Sergeant Langenbrunner several names in return. Officer Cox and Sergeant Langenbrunner then escorted him out of his cell and placed him in the shower cell until the nurse arrived. While waiting for the nurse, Sergeant Langenbrunner and Inmate Williams continued to "pass words" back and forth. Officer Cox and Sergeant Langenbrunner then escorted him to the medical exam room to be seen by the nurse. While he was sitting on the exam table with Officer Cox standing on his right and Sergeant Langenbrunner standing on his left, the nurse, who was sitting behind the desk, asked him what was wrong. He told her that he was feeling homicidal and suicidal and that nobody cared. He then turned his head towards Sergeant Langenbrunner and stated something like "but I'm just a fuckboy, right sarge". Sergeant Langenbrunner then immediately rushed towards him and grabbed him around his neck and began punching him as he took him to the ground (Inmate Williams was handcuffed behind his back at the time). Officer Cox then also grabbed him and began punching him. Sergeant Langenbrunner then told the nurse to get out of the room and she left. Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Cox then continued to punch him repeatedly in the head and face area while he was on the ground. At one point, Sergeant Langenbrunner told Officer Cox to make sure the nurse wasn't looking. Sergeant Langenbrunner then got on his knees and grabbed inmate Williams' head and began pounding his head and face repeatedly into the floor and called him a "stupid nigger". A short time later, about "2 or 3" other officers arrived. He later positively identified Officer Pignatara and Officer Oppe as being two of the officers who responded. He believed another officer also was present but he could not identify him (later determined to be Sergeant Rhodes). When Officer Oppe arrived, Inmate Williams heard Sergeant Langenbrunner state "Hey Coppe, come get some of this" (Inmate Williams did not know any of the officers' names at the time). Officer Oppe then came over to him and began kicking him repeatedly in the back and upper leg area. Inmate Williams did not believe that Officer Pignatara or the other officer (Rhodes) ever took any part of the assault but he could not be sure due to his being focused on Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Oppe. They then stood him up and Sergeant

Langenbrunner told him not to tell anyone about what happened. Two nurses then arrived and he was treated for his injuries and escorted to another dorm. No further assaults occurred. He stated that he never reported to anyone what had taken place. (At the time of Inmate Williams' first interview, he did not know any of the staff members by name but stated that he could identify them all by photos. He was later able to positively identify Sergeant Langenbrunner, Officer Cox, Officer Oppe and Officer Pignatara through photographic lineups. He could not identify the 5th officer, Sergeant Rhodes) (Exhibits A3, A4, B1 & B2)

Nurse Henry was interviewed and stated that at about 10:15pm, she responded to 'G' Dorm regarding an inmate who had declared a psychological emergency. She proceeded to the medical exam room where she set up her equipment and awaited the inmate's arrival. A few minutes later, two officers escorted Inmate Williams, who was restrained in handcuffs behind his back, into the room. She did not know the identities of the officers. (She was also later unable to positively identify the officers by photographs.) Inmate Williams then sat down on the exam table. She then began her assessment of Inmate Williams by taking his temperature and vital signs. She then sat down at the desk and asked him what the problem was. He responded by saying that he was having feelings of hurting himself and that he had told the "sarge" and he "didn't give a fuck". He then looked at the officer standing to his left and stated something like "You don't give a fuck do you sarge?". The officer addressed as "Sarge" then stated something like "Ok, that's it. This is over." and he immediately grabbed Inmate Williams and began to pull him off the table. The other officer, who had been standing to Inmate Williams' right, then proceeded to "tackle" Inmate Williams, knocking all three to the ground. She stated that at no time did Inmate Williams ever threaten or make any aggressive movements or actions prior to the force being used. Both officers then began punching Inmate Williams repeatedly with their fists. One of the officers (she does not know which one) then told her to "get the fuck out". She then exited the room. When she left, both officers were still on top of Inmate Williams, punching him repeatedly. She stated that she could not see if or where any of the blows landed due to Inmate Williams' body being obstructed by the officers' bodies and the exam table. She then proceeded directly to the Officer's station and told the female officer (Officer Sturtevant) to call the Captain. She then observed another officer, whom she was later able to positively identify as Officer Pignatara, running towards the medical exam room from the left side. Two more officers, who she could not positively identify, then ran into the exam room from the right side. She then walked up the stairs inside the control room so she could use the telephone to call the Medical Dept. and advise them of the situation. After she hung up the phone she looked down into the medical exam room through the Control Room window. (The medical exam room has windows on the walls and doors). Looking through the left side window, she observed four officers holding Inmate Williams down on the ground and punching him while another officer was standing behind him and kicking him repeatedly in the lower body or groin area. From her viewpoint in the control room, she could not see any of the officers' faces or see if any of the blows landed on Inmate Williams. She could not hear anything inside the room. She then turned and observed the Captain (Captain Tapper) coming towards the dorm and she immediately went down to notify him of what was happening. She did not observe anything else that occurred inside the exam room. Several minutes later, as she was leaving the dorm to return to Medical, several officers were standing around outside of the dorm. As she walked past them, one of the officers stated to her something like "I'm really sorry you had to see all that" and another officer stated something like "Be careful what you say and write because there are officers here that will find out where you live and what you drive". She did not respond or turn around to see who had made the comments but just continued walking. She could not identify any of the officers who were present and was not sure if any of them were even any of the officers who had been involved in the incident. She later submitted a written witness statement (Incident Report) to Captain Tapper regarding the Use of Force incident per his request but did not include any of the details due to fears of retaliation by the officers involved. The next day, however, she submitted the second, more detailed, Incident Report (Ex. A1). (Nurse Henry was shown several photographic lineups but was only able to positively identify Officer Pignatare as being one of the officers involved. She explained that she was unfamiliar with most of the officers at the prison due to her being relatively new and not having much contact with the officers and that she did not pay attention to the officers' faces at the time.)

(Exhibits A5 & B3)

Officer Sturtevant was interviewed and stated that on the night of the incident, she was assigned as the Control Room officer for 'G' Dorm. Sometime around 9:30pm, she heard a lot of yelling and banging coming from Quad 3. When she looked towards the area, she observed an unknown inmate pointing towards cell G3103 (Inmate Williams' cell) while making hanging signs with his hands. Officer Cox and Sergeant Langenbrunner then responded to the cell and a few minutes later Sergeant Langenbrunner called over the radio that Inmate Williams was declaring a psychological emergency. She then notified Medical to respond to 'G' Dorm. Officer Cox and Sergeant Langenbrunner then escorted Inmate Williams out of his cell and into the shower stall located right next to his cell to await Medical staff's arrival. A few minutes later, Nurse Henry responded and proceeded to the medical exam room. Once she was set up in the exam room, Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Cox escorted Inmate Williams out of the shower and into the exam room for a medical assessment. She (Sturtevant) then went back to conducting her normal work duties and did not pay any more attention to what was occurring in the exam room. A few minutes later, Sergeant Rhodes, who was in the Control Room with Officer Sturtevant assisting with Master Count (they were the only two people in the Control Room at the time), told her to hit her body alarm and he turned and began to run out of the Control Room. She then turned and looked towards the exam room and observed Inmate Williams on the floor with Officer Cox and Sergeant Langenbrunner lying on top of him and holding him down. She could not see from her viewpoint if any punches or any other types of force were being used on Inmate Williams at the time, but she was only able to see a quick glimpse before she went over to the console to focus on pushing the buttons to open the Control Room and Sallyport doors for Sergeant Rhodes and for Nurse Henry, who had exited the exam room about the same time. Nurse Henry then entered the Control Room and advised her that Sergeant Langenbrunner had hit Inmate Williams and took him to the floor for no reason. Officer Pignatare and Officer Oppe also arrived and proceeded to the exam room. She was still unable to watch what was happening in the exam room due to having to open doors, make log entries and to monitor the count procedures that were taking place in the rest of the dorm. However, at one point, she again looked through the window into the exam room and observed an unidentified officer standing behind Inmate Williams, who was still lying on the floor in a prone position. That officer then delivered three deliberate kicks to Inmate Williams' groin area with his boot. Due to her viewpoint from the Control Room being partially obscured, she could not see the head of the officer but stated that due to her familiarity with the physical body types and statures of all the officers in the room, it could only have been either Sergeant Langenbrunner or Officer Oppe (tall, stocky build). She could not see the positions or actions of any of the other officers. At around this time, Captain Tapper was arriving at the dorm and she again had to focus her attention away from the exam room to let him in and to continue with the Master Count procedures. She did not observe any further actions that took place inside the exam room. Shortly after the incident was over, while she was still in the Control Room, she observed Sergeant Langenbrunner standing outside with a few other officers. Sergeant Langenbrunner looked at her and motioned with his finger for her to come outside. She then went outside and Sergeant Langenbrunner told her "You didn't see anything". She then responded to him "But I did". He then leaned towards her and repeated "You didn't see anything". She stated that due to Sergeant Langenbrunner's physical posture and the manner with which he spoke, she perceived these comments to be a threat. She stated that Sergeant Rhodes and Officer Cox were also present when these comments were made but that they had their heads down and appeared to be in shock. She also recalls them talking about the incident later on but could not recall what was said, except for one point when Officer Cox mentioned that someone kicked him (Williams) in the face. She also stated that after the incident Sergeant Langenbrunner was extremely upset and was kicking file cabinets and yelling about Nurse Henry, calling her names like "fucking cunt bitch" (Nurse Henry was not present at the time). Officer Sturtevant further stated that she has observed Sergeant Langenbrunner make profane and threatening comments to other inmates in the past such as telling inmates "If you come out I'll split you from ear to ear" and telling inmates who pretend to hang themselves that he'd "stomp their guts for their trouble" and "bust the nigger's head". He has also made comments in the past indicating that if an inmate ever made him stay over (work past his shift) for a Use of Force report that he would "make sure the mother fucker bleeds".

In a subsequent interview, Officer Sturtevant stated that the day after her initial interview, she received two voice mails from Officer Cox. When she called him back he asked her what she had said to the inspectors. He told her he needed to know exactly what she had said so he could get his story straight. She told him that she had seen someone kick the inmate. Officer Cox then told her that Officer Oppe had kicked the inmate in the head. He did not say if he, or if anyone else, ever used any excessive force. (Exhibits A6, B4 & B5)

According to the Duty Roster and Dorm Log, Officers Weekes and Johnston were the other two officers assigned to 'G' Dorm during the night of the incident, along with Sergeant Langenbrunner, Officer Cox and Officer Sturtevant. Both Officer Weekes and Officer Johnston were interviewed and stated that they did not observe any part of the Use of Force incident or any of the actions that had taken place inside the exam room with Inmate Williams. They both also denied having any knowledge, either direct or indirect, of any excessive force or improper conduct that may have occurred regarding the incident. (Exhibits A7, A8, B6 & B7)

Sergeant Rhodes was interviewed and stated that at the time of the incident, he had just gone into 'G' Dorm to assist Officer Sturtevant with Master Count. After entering the Control Room, he heard some type of noise that caused him to look towards the medical exam room. (He could not recall what specific noise he had heard). As he walked over to the window to look down towards the exam room, he observed two officers inside the room holding an inmate down on the ground. He did not see what had caused the officers and inmate to go to the ground. He could not tell at the time who the officers were, but they were both lying on top of the inmate, one on his upper body and one on his lower body, holding him to the ground. They did not appear to be punching, striking or using any other type of force on the inmate at the time. He then immediately turned to Officer Sturtevant and told her to hit her body alarm and he proceeded out of the Control Room towards the exam room. As he arrived at the exam room, he was initially unable to enter the room due to the door being closed (the door automatically locks from the inside when closed). As he looked through the window of the door, he could see the two officers still lying on top of the inmate in the same position. Someone then opened the door for him and he entered the room. He could not recall who it was that opened the door. He was then able to identify the two officers in the room as Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Cox. The inmate, later identified as

Inmate Williams, was lying down on his stomach in a prone position with his head against the wall and his feet sticking out into the center of the room. Sergeant Langenbrunner was on one side of Inmate Williams and Officer Cox was on the other. One was holding down Inmate Williams' upper body and one was holding down his lower body (He could not recall which one was on which side or holding down which part). Neither Sergeant Langenbrunner nor Officer Cox were using any type of force on Inmate Williams other than just holding him down. Inmate Williams did not appear to be physically resisting in any way and the situation appeared to be under control. Officer Pignatare and Officer Oppe then arrived at the room. Sergeant Rhodes advised them not to touch the inmate, due to his determination that the situation was contained and that he did not want any additional staff members involved in the Use of Force. He then turned to Officer Pignatare and instructed him to go and retrieve a video camera (which is standard procedure for Use of Force incidents). At that time, Sergeant Langenbrunner stated to Officer Oppe "Hey Oppe, come get some". Officer Oppe then walked over behind Inmate Williams and began kicking him repeatedly in the lower body area. He did not recall exactly where Officer Oppe had kicked him or exactly how many times. He (Rhodes) then yelled at Officer Oppe to stop kicking him and he stopped. Officer Pignatare then returned with the camera around the same time, followed shortly after by Captain Tapper. Sergeant Rhodes stated that neither he nor Officer Pignatare ever made any physical contact with Inmate Williams at any time during the incident. He also stated that other than Officer Oppe kicking Inmate Williams, no other excessive force was used on Inmate Williams at any time while in his presence. Sergeant Rhodes did not recall any conversations that may have taken place among the other officers following the incident, specifically the one described by Officer Sturtevant. He explained that he was in shock from what Officer Oppe had done and that he had not been paying attention to what was being said around him. He stated that he has not had any contact with any of the other officers involved in the incident since that time. (Exhibit A9 & B8)

Officer Pignatare was interviewed and stated that at the time of the incident he had been assigned to 'C' Dorm, which is right next to 'G' Dorm. He heard an alert over the radio signifying that a body alarm had been activated in 'G' Dorm. He then immediately responded. At this time, he was unaware of what had occurred or who may have been involved. When he arrived in "G" Dorm several seconds later, he observed Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Cox inside the medical exam room on the ground with an inmate in what appeared to be a "standard Use of Force". He explained that the inmate, later identified as Inmate Williams, was lying face down in a prone position with his head against the wall and his feet extending out towards the middle of the room. Sergeant Langenbrunner was kneeling next to Inmate Williams' right side holding down his lower body and Officer Cox was kneeling next to Inmate Williams' left side holding down his upper body. Sergeant Langenbrunner was giving Inmate Williams verbal commands to stay down and not resist. Neither officer was using any type of force on Inmate Williams at the time other than to hold him down. Inmate Williams did not appear to be resisting, either physically or verbally, in any way. Since the situation appeared under control, Officer Pignatare just stood there and awaited further instructions. Sergeant Rhodes then arrived at the other door, which he had to open for him. Sergeant Rhodes then stood there for several seconds and then turned to him (Pignatare) and told him to go and retrieve the camera. As he turned to leave the room, Officer Oppe arrived at the door and "bulldogged" past him into the room. Officer Oppe immediately ran over to Inmate Williams and said "You made me run down here for no reason motherfucker". Sergeant Langenbrunner then said something to Officer Oppe like "Go ahead and get some shots in before the captain gets here". At that time, Officer Oppe began kicking Inmate Williams repeatedly between his legs and on his upper thigh and side area.

Officer Pignatare then turned away and left the room to retrieve the camera. He then proceeded directly to 'C' Dorm to retrieve the camera. He believes that he was only gone for less than a minute before he returned with the camera. When he returned to the exam room, Inmate Williams was still lying on the floor in the same position with Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Cox still in their same positions holding him down. Officer Oppe was kicking Inmate Williams repeatedly in the upper body, rib area and groin area while continuing to yell obscenities at him. Inmate Williams had significant blood covering his head and face area that had not been present when he had left the room. While Officer Oppe was kicking Inmate Williams, Sergeant Langenbrunner was encouraging Officer Oppe by prodding him to keep kicking and to "get some more shots in before the captain gets here". During the whole time, Sergeant Rhodes was yelling at Officer Oppe, repeatedly telling him to stop what he was doing. Several seconds later, Captain Tanner entered the dorm and began walking towards the room. At that time, all the kicking and yelling ceased. Officer Pignatare denied that either he or Sergeant Rhodes ever made any physical contact with Inmate Williams at any time. (Officer Pignatare did not turn on the camera until after the captain arrived and instructed him to initiate the videotaping several minutes later) Shortly after the incident, while he was standing with Officer Cox, Sergeant Langenbrunner approached them and told them that "we all need to get our stories straight or else Oppe will be out of a job". Officer Pignatare responded that he did not know how he could make a story match with what happened. Sergeant Langenbrunner then turned towards him and shouted something like "Our stories have got to match Pig" (Pig is Officer Pignatare's nickname). Officer Pignatare stated that due to Sergeant Langenbrunner's demeanor and tone of voice, he perceived that Sergeant Langenbrunner was trying to intimidate him into not reporting the incident. Several days after the incident, he received a phone call from Officer Oppe. Officer Oppe told him he was sorry for what happened and for putting all of their jobs in jeopardy but that "if we get all of our stories straight, we should be ok". He then told Officer Oppe that he needed to just go to the warden's office and tell him what he did so he could get the rest of them "off the hook". Officer Oppe responded that he did not need to do that because "the PBA's gonna have that nurse's ass". Officer Pignatare then ended the conversation. He has not had any other contact with any of the other officers involved since that time. (Exhibit A10 & B9)

A medical examination was conducted on Inmate Williams immediately following the Use of Force and a follow up exam was conducted the next day. Inmate Williams received a laceration and severe swelling to his right eye, swelling to his lips and right cheek, bruising and scratches to his face and forehead, bruising to his left upper shoulder and back area and a minor laceration to his inner right thigh. Subsequent X-Rays taken of his eye were negative. Multiple photographs of the injuries were also taken. (Exhibits A11 & A12)

The Housing Unit Log for 'G' Dorm from December 16, 2008, which was completed by Officer Sturtevant, indicated the following:

- At 9:56pm Inmate Williams declared a psychological emergency.
- At 9:57pm Inmate Williams was escorted to the shower next to cell G3103 by Officer Cox and Sergeant Langenbrunner
- At 9:58pm Nurse Henry was notified.
- At 10:08pm Nurse Henry arrived in the dorm.
- At 10:10pm Inmate Williams was escorted to the medical exam room by Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Cox.

- At 10:15pm a spontaneous Use of Force occurs in the medical exam room involving Inmate Williams, Sergeant Langenbrunner and Officer Cox.
- At 10:16pm Officer Oppe, Officer Pignatare and Sergeant Rhodes respond.
- At 10:18pm Captain Tapper enters the dorm
- At 10:21pm Officer Pignatare begins camera operation.
- At 10:23pm Nurse Lamy and Poretta enter dorm
- At 10:24pm Nurse Henry exits the dorm.
- At 10:46 Inmate Williams is escorted out of the dorm by Sergeant Rhodes, Officer Oppe, Captain Tapper, Nurse Poretta and Officer Pignatare with the camera.

(Exhibit A13)

The fixed-wing camera system located in 'G' Dorm shows Officer Cox approaching Inmate Williams' cell at 9:57pm (internal clock) and remaining at the cell door. Sergeant Langenbrunner then approaches the cell at 9:59pm and remains there for several seconds. At 10:00pm, the cell door is opened and Inmate Williams is escorted out of the cell and into the shower stall by Officer Cox. At 10:13pm, Officer Cox and Sergeant Langenbrunner escort Inmate Williams out of the shower and towards the wing door, out of camera range. Inmate Williams appears to be handcuffed behind his back at the time. Neither the medical exam room nor the Control Room are in view of any of the cameras. There is no audio on the camera system. (Exhibit B11)

The post use of force video, initiated by Officer Pignatare shortly after the incident and ending after Inmate Williams was secured in his cell, was reviewed but did not reveal anything of significance. (Exhibit B12)

Upon approval by the Office of Inspector General, a copy of this Investigative Report will be submitted to Stephen B. Russell, State Attorney for the 20th Judicial Circuit, for review and consideration of criminal prosecution.

Once the courts have rendered a final decision in this case, an addendum to this report will be submitted.
